STIMSON ACTS TO END BREACH IN CONFERENCE

American Leads Efforts To Break Deadlock Between France and Italy.

MEETS WITH DELEGATES

Week-End Sessions Expected To Pave Way for Limitation Treaty.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 14.—Secretary of State Stimson, who shared the task of pulling the naval conference from the brink of deadlock with Prime Minister MacDonald yesterday, today was assuming an even more important role in the direction of the negotiations.

A meeting between the secretary and Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy

this afternoon featured renewed energies of the conference. The Italian foreign minister later will see Foreign Minister Briand of France.

From all directions pressure was being brought to bear on the Franco-

Italian deadlock. The British prime minister yesterday pulled the conference from the brink of a precipice, not as head of the British delegation but as chairman of the conference charged with keeping the machinery going, and today Secretary Stimson was hard at work on the negotiations.

Seek Lower Figures

An attempt will be made this weekend to salvage the conference from the stalemate into which it has fallen.

Delegates hope to find the way for a limitation treaty which will not involve such high figures as in reality will constitute a building program agreement.

Golf matches and other week-end amusements are being cancelled in the belief that conversations seeking solution of the problems presented by French demands will be continued tomorrow and Sunday.

Intensive efforts to lead the conference out of its difficulties actually began yesterday with a round of private meetings and later a statement by Premier MacDonald that he was encouraged by the day's events.

Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, announced also that he was not discouraged and that he had been misunderstood when quoted as saying he was leaving the conference.

"Not In Bad Humor"

In an explanation of statements made Wednesday to French journalists, Briand declared that contrary to reports he was not in a bad humor. He said he was not sufficiently naive to get into a "bad humor over the work of the conference."

It was regarded as significant that he did not issue the statement until after the meeting with Stimson, and that he had been in the city since last night. On the other hand he told newspsmen he still was confident the party would accomplish something in the general interests of peace.

What the latest situation will be yet fully, nobody can guess. Wise men will refrain from selling shares. Uncle Sam's pocketbook is back of what prices in the United States, a new kind of "corner."

DAVID SEAS—FIRST GRANGER

RECALLS EARLY EFFORTS OF FARM GROUP IN 1874

BY ROBERT BYRD
Marion Star Staff Writer

With ten granges of Marion county rapidly boosting their aggregate membership to the

1,000 mark, and taking first place among rural organizations here, reminiscences of the activities of the group organization which flourished here half a century ago, early to fade into obli-vision, are recalled by David

Seas, 286, South Vine st. His activities as one of the first grange workers in the county has not faded from the veteran's mind, although he is now past the twenty-second milestone of life.

He saw the grange take root in Marion county in 1874, bloom into a well developed organization, and gradually fade away because its members sought to commercialize on their memberships, and to argue paragon and delicious problems which Mr. Seas believes have no place in the grange.

He has also seen the same organization reestablished in 1908 on a more solid footing, and again bloom into prominence.
Although too well along in life to become an active worker, he is a grange booster.

Mr. Seas was active in the Pleasant township grange which was one of the earliest, although not the first, grange in the county. He well remembers the various problems of the grange in the years immediately following 1874.

One was the "patent outrage" which was the worry of every farmer who purchased a patented farm appliance. Articles such as the double, buller for clover seed and the horse-powered hay fork were just coming into common use at the time, and agricul-

BOY TESTIFIES AGAINST IRENE

Says Mrs. Shrader Showed Gun at Trooper and Forc-

DIDN'T SEE SHOOTING

"Looked Like Movie," Youth of 14 Describes Scene to Reporters.

By The Associated Press

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 14.—

A 14-year-old boy took the witness stand today to help the state prove its web of evidence around Irene

Shrader, on trial for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul.

The boy was Raymond Baldwin, son of Mrs. H. D. Baldwin, who testified yesterday that she saw Irene shoot Paul. Raymond evidently was thrilled at the sight of the gun shown him by prosecution counsel, and repeated details of the fatal gun battle.

He told of a woman, whom he identified as Mrs. Shrader, stepping from the car, showing a gun into the trooper's stomach, backing him against a telephone pole and holding him there.

The lad said, however, that he did not see the actual shooting of Paul. He had turned his attention to the gun fight between Raymond

Moore, Paul's companion, and two mysterious men who occupied the back seat of the car in which Irene was seated.

Witnesses, Officers Battle

Raymond told in great detail how

Moore dodged behind the radiator of the car as each shot crashed through the windshield. The boy's testimony was passed by defense counsel with only a few perfunctory objections.

"Gee, whiz," the boy exclaimed to reporters after he left the stand. "I didn't know what was going on. The police had been stopping automobiles for 20 minutes before they stopped the Chevrolet coach, then the woman got out—and gee, it looked like a movie. She had a big revolver in her hand. I could hear what they were saying and the big tall fellow (Paul) just dropped right down. She shot him in the stomach."

Woman Fires First

On cross-examination Raymond said he saw Paul fire but that the woman had fired before that.

Mrs. Martha Williams, who lives more than 200 yards from the scene of the shooting, told of seeing a man and a woman emerge from the car when it was stopped by Paul and Moore. The woman's right hand was extended toward Paul, Mrs. Williams

SPRING TO BRING WORK WITH FLOWERS

Marion's Landscaping Program for Coming Season Is To Be Comprehensive; Projects Listed.

Seldom has Marion had such a comprehensive landscaping program as has been outlined for 1930.

Work which is expected to change the complexion of nearly every section of the city has been tentatively planned.

Flowers, shrubbery, and even trees are expected to figure in the beautification program. Attractive and colorful sights will greet the visitor to Marion if the hopes of many flower lovers and officials are realized.

The opening lawn in front of Marion City hospital is one of the several tracts in the city to receive attention this year. As a past year, the Marion Academy of Medicine has appropriated $50 for a landscaping program for the hospital property. This is expected to grow to at least $200 through other contributions.

In addition to the hospital lawn, other tracts which will probably be freed into beauty spots are the Harding Memorial lawn, the new school which is soon to spread to the southwest across from the Memorial and Marion cemetery.

No definite plans have been made for further landscaping work at the Harding Memorial as yet. The beautiful green and shrubbery and small trees planted last year and in previous years will make it a beauty spot.

Plans for the new golf course will naturally involve a decided change in

MARION MAN'S CASE

Appellate Court Orders Second and New Hearing in Damage Action.

Special To The Star

BUCIRUS, March 14—The case of Ray Thackery, Marion, against Dr. Mark Helfrich, Gallion, heard by the local common pleas court again has been remanded to the local court by the court of appeals, according to word received at the clerk of court's office.

Thackery claims that the physician failed to properly set a fractured limb resulting in his being crippled while the physician claimed that the boy did not properly care for himself resulting in the crippled condition.

Thackery was awarded judgment against the doctor first for $10,000 after which the case was remanded to the local court when carried to the court of appeals by the physician. A judgment for $18,000 was rendered Thackery but by agreement was reduced to $10,000.

Thackery was injured in a fall suffered while working on a sand pit at Gallion in 1924.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem clearly. This involves identifying the symptoms, the scope of the problem, and the impact it is having on the organization. Once the problem is defined, the next step is to gather information about the problem. This can be done through interviews, surveys, and other research methods. The information gathered should be used to identify the causes of the problem and to develop a plan to address the problem. The final step in the process is to implement the plan and to monitor the results. This involves putting the plan into action and then tracking the progress of the plan to ensure that it is effective. If the plan is not working, it may be necessary to revise the plan or to try a different approach. The process of identifying a problem is an ongoing one, and it is important to continue to monitor the problem and to make adjustments as needed.

Scientist Claims Nicotine in Five Cigarettes Fatal

VIENNA.—The special preparation of tobacco or cigarettes, called desiccation, which often destroys the aroma of the tobacco, is not necessary at all for the production of "hygienic" cigarettes, according to Professor A. Winterstein, writing in a well-known Vienna medical journal.

The same end, he says, is much more easily and effectively reached by working tobacco that is by nature poor in nicotine and contains about ten per cent water, into long shaped cigarettes.

Experiments by Professor Winterstein and Dr. E. Aronson showed that at least the same quantity of nicotine passes into the smoker's mouth from desiccated cigarettes.

or such provided with cotton filters, as from tobacco which is naturally poor in nicotine. Such tobacco, he says, is not the best aromatic, and furthermore it is possible to control the formation of all kinds of tobacco in such a way that a great part of the nicotine it contains is destroyed without injuring the aroma.

The importance of this question is shown by the fact that a fatal dose of nicotine is contained in less than five average light cigarettes. It is true that a part of the nicotine is not entering the mouth of the smoker, nevertheless its action effect is very strong though often not recognized or attributed to other causes.

The experiments of the two scientists, who are also passionate smokers, showed:

1. Heavy cigarettes contain as much as seven times more nicotine than light ones.
2. About 30 per cent more nicotine passes into smoker's mouth from dry cigarettes than from moist tobacco.
3. About twice as much from short cigarettes as from long thin ones.
4. Thirty per cent more from loosely filled cigarettes than from tightly packed ones.
5. From the nicotine entering the mouth four times as much is absorbed by the organism when the smoke is inhaled than without inhaling.

MEMORIAL GROUP TO HONOR PIONEERS

Covered Wagon Centennial To Be Held Century After First Trip

NEW YORK, March 11.—Plans for a nationwide celebration in honor of the pioneers whose exploits and heroism won and settled the West, have been announced by George D. Pratt, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Oregon Trail Memorial Association.

The celebration will be known as the Covered Wagon Centennial and will open on April 10, one hundred years after the first covered wagon left St. Louis and set forth over the Rockies, thus opening emigration over the famous Oregon Trail. The celebration will close on December 20, the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the late Ezra Meeker, whose life was dedicated to memorializing this trail.

Pratt declared that the celebration contemplates a widely diversified program. An important one of its objects is education and historical research, in which the National Education Association, the American Historical Association, Women's Clubs, Boy Scouts, The National Playgrounds Association and similar organizations will participate. Another plan, Pratt said, calls for marking with suitable monuments the important points along the Oregon Trail route.

Beginning at St. Louis, the trail winds through such points as Fort Belvoir, Fort Laramie, Walla Walla, Fort Kearney and South Pass and finally ends in Portland.

Freedom from Extortion Sought by Seven Clubs

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Petty extortion, practiced by New Brunswick youths on motorists who park their cars at night while attending theatrical performances, movies, and public meetings, brought a protest today from the three service clubs of the city. Resolutions adopted by Kiwanis, Lions, and Exchange clubs were forwarded to the city commissioners through the commission of public safety, to put a stop to the practice.

The resolutions declare that almost invariably, if the owner of an automobile refuses to accept and pay for the services of the young "robust" watchmen, he finds his car scratched or his tires deflated and is subjected to "unpleasant molestation."

The resolution requests that the watchmen be instructed that their employment is dependent only upon the pleasure of the owners and that they are not entitled to demand anything for their services, nor to demand that motorists hire them.

Dr. Frazier Elected Head of Association

GREELEY, Colo.—Dr. George Willard Frazier, president of Colorado State Teachers College here, has been elected president of the American Association of Teachers Colleges.

Dr. Frazier, is the first president to be elected by popular vote. Heretofore the president of the American Association of Teachers Colleges was selected through a nominating committee appointed by the serving president. A new method was adopted recently, providing the presidents be nominated by mail vote and elected in annual convention.

Dr. Frazier received a large mail nominating vote and was accorded a big majority in the convention recently held at Atlantic City, N. J.

The retiring president of the organization is Dr. H. W. Rackwell, president of the State Teachers College, Buffalo, N. Y.

Veteran Naval Officer To Continue Solar Research

WAMP ISLAND, Cal.—Technical retirement. Captain Jackson See, for 25 years a senior mathematician of the United States Navy, today is devoting himself to the study of advanced astronomy. Since 1904, he has been working on the researches in the solar system—researches which have already brought him into the world of fame. He has rendered service to the Navy and to the world as a mathematician and astronomer. He is fully expected to devote the rest of his life to the study of the solar system.

giving a wholly new view of the origin of the solar system. Captain See said. He is the author of 30 volumes of work ranking him with Newton and Laplace. Eight of these volumes remain to be published. What his plans for the immediate future are, Captain See refused to reveal other than that they deal with researches having to do with millions of small comets in the solar system. Since devoting himself to mathematics 50 years ago, Captain See has made discoveries and conducted researches which have brought him international fame.

Among the most outstanding theories advanced by him is the one dealing with the capture of small bodies in space to build up large ones. Connecting magnetism with the waves operating in electrodynamics, leading to the wave-theory of universal gravitation. Wave-theory of atomic and molecular force and proof of the theory of gravitation, described as an advance in pure mathematics unparalleled since the founding of the School of Alexandria 22 years ago. Dynamical theory of tides. Establishing that mean distances of planets are favorable, and the solar system is stable as it destined for eternal duration.

Hungary Prime Minister Awarded Service Medal

BUDAPEST—For his successful work at the Hague conference, Count Bethlen, Hungarian prime minister, was decorated with the Hungarian medal for distinguished services. The service medal is the only order existing in modern Hungary, and has but recently been established by the state administrator, Admiral von Horthy. Count Bethlen is the first man to wear the new decoration.

HINDUS TELLS OF STRIFE IN ORIENT

Student of East Is Greeted by Large Audience; Appears on High School Program.

"Asia first conquered the white man with religion, then the white man conquered Asia with physical force, and this has caused the boiling and seething and unrest that has set Asia aflame," Maurice Hindus, author of "Russia and the Orient," said in his address on "Asia," last night at the Star auditorium. He came here for the second time on the high school entertainment course, and was greeted by a large audience.

He dealt particularly with China and the unrest in that country, beginning with his sojourn of several weeks with the Manchus of the Gobi desert. All through his lecture were interesting stories and experiments of his while he was in Asia last summer getting a story on the unrest there.

The reasons which he was given in China for this unrest were the white man. All over Asia this was the sentiment. Of his own experience he found that poverty, family life and the position of women in China are causing most of the turmoil in that country.

Poverty Stricken
Even in Russian villages there is not the poverty that there is in China. It is the worst kind of poverty there, lived in centuries of living without science, which the country is just beginning to realize is its only remedy and only hope for advancement.

China still believes that it is the thing to do to buy its government officials off, Hindus said. Back of this is the necessity of having a large family, one of the two bad things in China's beliefs. In China, this graft is known as "squeeze."

Ancestor worship and the perpetuation of the family tree are the cause of the present day position of women in China. They have to worship their husband's ancestors and so are left without ancestors of their own, and they perpetuate their husband's name, and have no name of their own. Therefore Chinese women are looked down upon. Only in the bigger, Occidentalized sections of Chinese cities, is this feeling gradually being broken down.

And contrary to the idea that is being spread in America, Mr. Hindus declared that Chinese women still bind their feet and are still undergoing the tortures of physical disfigurement to gain the much desired Chinese standard of beauty the sunken chest.

Torn by Greed

China has been torn to pieces by the greed and avarice of the white man in acquiring its territory, Hindus declared. Now the country is beginning to send its boys and girls to American, French and English universities and these young people are beginning to understand science and nationalism.

It is the fact that when they return to China, Harvard graduates and brilliant students, and are looked down upon by the resident white people as still being "backward," but Chinese people to be proud in the past, looked upon as inferiors in their own country, that is causing the Chinese people to rise in rebellion. The people of this vast populated country are willing that the white man come in and trade with them and bring their education to the people, but they resent this inferiority which the white man is continually throwing in the face of his educated people.

We must give them equality or Asia will break into bedlam, Hindus declared. If the white man does not help China, Russia may help the country, and when the Chinese are roused with the cruelty which Russian bootleggers impose, they will be the most cruel and inhuman country ever imagined, for their years of poverty and distress have steeled them against all physical feeling.

Must Have Help

If the white man does not compromise with China, some time we will come up and read in the papers that white men, women and children are being slaughtered, Hindus showed that the misadventure are the only white people who understand and know the Chinese feeling today, because the missionaries are teaching education in China, and China reveres education.

China is awakening, he said in conclusion.

Dwight Barzant, senior class president at the high school, announced March 25 as the date of the next and last program on this year's course. The annual concert of the High School musical organizations will be given at Central Junior High school Friday night, March 24.

ROUGHAGE IN DIET NEEDED IN REDUCING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Eliminates Danger

Are you one of those who are reducing by diet? If so, there is one important thing you should know—diets that do not include roughage cause constipation, often with serious consequences. Guard against it!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains the roughage needed to insure regular elimination. It is guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation or your money will be refunded. Two tablespoons daily—in serious cases, with each meal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not fattening. But it does add valuable food to the blood which helps prevent anemia (another dieting danger) and brings a glowing, healthy color to the complexion.

You can enjoy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk, honey, or sprinkled over cereals and salads, in soups and soaked in fruit juices. It is appetizing in cooked food. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Soap and Hard Water Alone Will Not Give Best Dish Washing Results

Local housewives claim amazing results when new water-softening cleanser is added in washing anything. Takes 1/4 the soap—saves 1/2 the time.

A new discovery is cutting dish washing time in half—eliminating greasy film on dishes and the scrubbing in the dishpan—the penalties you local women have been forced to pay for the hardness of city water.

It is not a soap but a water-softening cleanser that makes any soap more effective in cleansing results by changing "hard" water to "soft." And you need use only one-fourth the soap formerly needed.

What It Is

It is a preparation called Climalene that you add to your washing water. Just a tablespoon or two.

Instantly, it takes all the harshness out of that water. Makes it soft as rain water.

At the same time, due to certain bland cleansing agents, it instantly Dissolves all dirt, stains and grime. And thus cuts washing time ONE-HALF or more.

Use the soap or soap flakes you ordinarily do. Then see for yourself the amazing results. During 1922 women used over 24,000,000 packages of Climalene for washing, for cleaning and in the dishpan.

Laboratory Proved

To assure results to you, we buy fine things, lingerie and delicate fabrics, costly china. Then by repeated washings, try to spoil or fade them.

Consider, please, what those things mean to you. Consider, too, that the minute you put this creation into water, all harshness is taken away—your hands protected from roughness, made soft, smooth and white. Then try it.

Remember the name—Climalene. Your grocer has it in 10c and 25c packages.

Discovery of New Planet by Student from Kansas Announced at Observatory

Regarded as Greatest Astronomical Achievement Since Discovery of Neptune.

By The Associated Press
FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., March 14.—Discovery of a new world, probably larger than the earth, brought to mathematical astronomy today the second achievement of the kind.

The new and unexplored planet, whose actual presence in trans-neptunian space was first detected last Jan. 21 by an astronomy-loving farmer boy from Kansas, was heralded yesterday by an announcement here yesterday by Dr. V. M. Slipher, of the Lowell observatory.

A strange "blotch of light" on a photographic negative, produced by an extremely delicate instrument at the observatory, led to the discovery.

The speck of light was noticed by Clyde Tombaugh, the young student of astronomy and this led to detection of the heavenly body, bringing the known number of major planets in the solar system to nine.

Location fixed in January. The location of the new body on Jan. 21 was fixed at three points. It was then seen seven weeks later from Delta Gemini with Lowell's predicted longitude. It is approximately forty-five times farther from the earth than the sun, and is "at least as small as the earth," like Neptune. It cannot be seen by the naked eye.

Astronomically, the discovery is regarded as the greatest achievement since the location of Neptune, the eighth primary planet on the solar system, in 1846. The task now remains to determine its size, exact distance from the earth, its orbit and other planetary characteristics.

The discovery was accomplished much in the same manner as the

First Detected as "Blotch" on Photographic Negative Last January of Neptune in 1846. Tombaugh, a student astronomer from Kansas, came to the observatory in 1929 and has been working with the new Lowell telescope, exposing and examining the plates under the direction of senior members of the staff.

Detected "Something New"

"While I was peering through the telescope at a plate, something new flickered before my eyes," Tombaugh said. "At first I thought it simply an illusion, but I looked at some more of the plates and finally realized that I had stumbled onto an important discovery. After an examination, the senior members of the staff were convinced that we were viewing the trans-neptunian planet."

Two years before his death, Dr. Percival Lowell, founder of the Lowell observatory, announced calculations on the trans-neptunian planet, and although he never had seen it, his computations indicated that such a body must exist.

While the newly discovered planet is yet unnamed, just "a blotch of light" on a photographic plate, astronomers at the observatory have announced that they will follow every action of the planet in order that more of its character may be learned.

Walter Sinclair Shot as He Flees After Capture in California

By The Associated Press
BRAWLEY, Cal., March 14.—Death has saved Walter Sinclair, 42, alias Joe McFarland, escaped convict, from being returned to the Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus. Sinclair, arrested here yesterday upon information received from Ohio officers, was shot and killed by Police Officer Robert Cordill, as he made a dash for freedom from the Brawley city jail.

Mrs. Ella Mason, mother of Sinclair, with whom he had been living here for several months, admitted her son had been convicted of automobile theft in Ohio and had escaped from prison. She said he also had served a term in the Oregon state prison in connection with a murder.

Sinclair was arrested here by Captain Walter Walsh, who accompanied the prisoner to jail and turned him over to Cordill for holding. As Cordill opened a cell door Sinclair dashed into the street. Cordill followed and opened fire as the fleeing prisoner swung on to the side of a passing automobile. Two bullets struck the man and he died almost instantly.

MOVIE HEAD FACES NEW LEGAL TANGLE

Action Seeks Injunction To Halt Suit Brought by Fox in U. S. Court.

NEW YORK, March 14.—William Fox today faced another tangle in the web of legal moves centering around the financial affairs of the Fox Theaters Co. and Fox Film Corporation, as the result of filing of a suit in state supreme court to halt by injunction an action brought by Fox in federal court.

by John E. Otterson and H. L. Stuart.

Fox's suit was scheduled to be heard in federal court this morning on an order issued by Judge Frank J. Coleman requiring Otterson and Stuart to show cause why an injunction should not be issued to restrain them from voting stock of Fox in the two companies as provided in a trustee agreement.

Instead of waiting until today to answer the federal court suit, Stuart and Otterson obtained from Justice Aaron J. Levy an injunction to restrain Fox from proceeding with his suit. The order to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent is returnable Monday.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

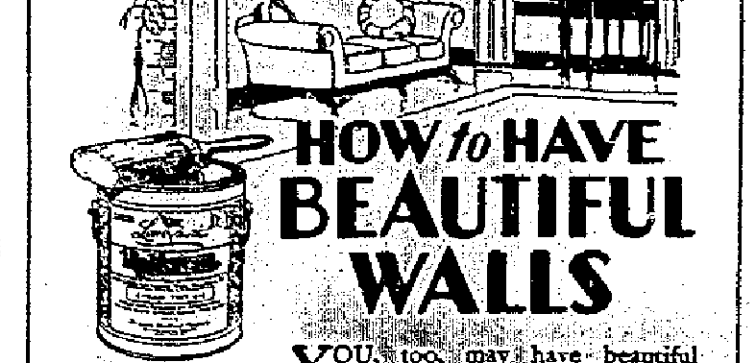

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1876.—Adv.

Damrosch Will Exemplify Dances of Foreign Lands

United States Army Band Will Play from War College for Columbia System

DANCES of foreign lands as exemplified in typical native pieces and "Humor in Music," will be explained and demonstrated by Walter Damrosch during the concert to be broadcast through the WEAF and WJZ networks at 11 o'clock Friday night.

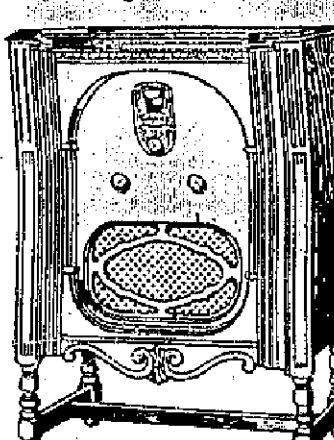

The first half hour presents dance music derived from five European countries. The German type is illustrated by a celebrated composition of the most celebrated author of waltzes, "Tales from the Vienna Woods," by the Austrian, Johann Strauss, Jr. Incidentally this date marks the one hundred twentieth anniversary of the birth of Johann Strauss, the elder, who founded the Viennese school of waltz composers.

Spain is represented in this concert by the "Grasy Dance" from Bizet's "Carmen," and France by the dainty saravalle Amour, believed to have been composed by that royal favorite, King Louis XIII. From Russia comes the vigorous troika of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" Suite, and Italy is the source of Massenet's spirited Tarantella, from his "Scapito's Scenes."

The program of the second period consists of waltzes by composers blessed with a sense of humor which they injected into their music. In this "Jolly waltzes" from "Through the Looking Glass," Deane's Taylor depicts musically the mood-creating battle between Lewis Carroll's fabulous monster and the hero whose "vorpal blade" won "knickerbocker." Don Quixote's ludicrous encounter with a flock of sheep is described by Richard Strauss in his tone poem "Don Quixote" and another famous Strauss, Johann, Jr., relieves the comic possibilities of a sudden April shower in his polka, "Thunder and Lightning."

U. S. ARMY BAND ON AIR FRIDAY NIGHT

Durey as second leader, will be heard in concert over WABC and stations of the Columbia system at 8 o'clock Friday night. The band will play in the main auditorium of the War College, Washington, D. C.

Bulls Have Edge As Money Rate Goes Down

INDUSTRIAL REPORTS GOOD

United States Steel Goes Up on News of Federal Tax Refund

NEW YORK, March 11.—Bulls in the stock market today had the advantage of the reduction in the reserve bank rate to 3 1/2 per cent, a reduction in the call loan rate to 5 per cent for the first time in four years, and a fairly favorable news budget from important industries.

Accumulation of income tax funds in the banking institutions here created a temporary over-supply of call money and this was without doubt the important factor behind the cut in the rate. 3 per cent for the first time since 1929. The reduction of business in some sections of the country has lifted the gloom which has been hanging over them to recent months. An important item was the increase in February automobile registration.

After an early decline to 129, United States Steel advanced to 132 1/2 on announcement that the joint congressional committee had approved the $25,353,333 tax refund on 1932, 1931 and 1930 taxes. This is equivalent to $4 a share or more than half the early dividend on this stock. The lead of "big steel" was followed by a number of the tobacco, motion picture, utility and specialty stocks which have been moving ahead with more or less irregularity in recent weeks.

Curb Market Moves Upward
By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 11.—The curb market worked moderately higher under the leadership of the oils and some of the industrials and specialties today. The advance was not uniform, and selling flurries were encountered from time to time.

The decrease in the rediscount rate was without visible effect, as it had been rather coincidentally expected for several days. There was promise some professional near selling on the lower rate would prompt a disappearance in many quarters.

With falling crude and gasoline prices and better progress in the production control movement, the oils continued to favor, although buying was for the most part not of an aggressive character. Standard Oil rose more than two points to a new top and Humble sold up more than a point at a new 1930 high.

Cheap Money Aids Bond Price Rise
By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 11.—Cheap money and a broadening inquiry from institutional sources, including banks, sent the bond market spinning upward today in an exceptionally active session. Turnover during the early trading was at a marked increase, yesterday, which had been the heaviest session of the year.

Three percent call money appeared at noon for the first time in nearly four years. Time funds also yielded to the pressure of large supplies and money dealers quoted the shorter maturities at four percent.

Railroad bonds were again buoyant. Texas & Pacific "B" 4 1/2's rallied 1/8 to 103. Walshaw 4 1/2's rose 1/2 and Central of New Jersey 4 1/2's advanced a point.

Beauty Doctor Loses Title

Plastic Surgeon Blamed for Girl Losing Legs Barred from Practice

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, March 11.—The title of "doctor" from Henry J. Schreiner, self-styled "greatest of plastic surgeons," was stripped of him yesterday by a court order.

An order revoking Schreiner's license, signed yesterday by Michael F. Walsh, director of education and registration, educational charges brought by Miss Sayde Holland that Schreiner induced her to submit to an operation "for amputation of her lower leg." As a result of the operation, it was necessary to amputate both legs.

Dr. M. L. Harris, president of the American Medical Association, reported he found that Miss Holland did not have any less than Schreiner was not of good moral character, that he had been the owner of a "quack institute" and had twice served prison terms for quackery.

Among the celebrities Schreiner listed as patients were Fannie Brice, "Peaches" Brown, Trudy Shattuck, and Sophie Tucker.

Efficiency Impaired? Do You Get Up Frequently at Night?

YOU CANNOT HOPE to "make good" under these circumstances. Nobody can. You must have rest, a clear brain, and every organ in perfect working order to do justice to yourself.

After a hard cold or an attack of the grip or flu, your kidneys are apt to be affected. When the body filters become clogged, poisons accumulate in the blood and are scattered throughout the system, and many disagreeable symptoms follow. If you notice any kidney irregularity, and if you feel the need of free medical counsel, write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. Y., also send sample of urine for free analysis. Or send to the drug store and get DR. PIERCE'S ANURIC TABLETS, a mild stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Anuric was originated at the Invalids Hotel by Dr. Pierce, president, after observation and treatment of thousands of kidney cases.

Write the President, Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., if you desire free medical advice, no matter what your ailment may be.—Adv.

ELKS' DEGREE TEAM TO ENTER CONTEST

Local Lodge Officers Will Compete with Other Teams at Columbus.

Degree team of the local lodge of Elks will go to Columbus Sunday afternoon to compete with three other teams in a ritualistic contest.

Williamston, Newark and the winner of the Euclid-Hiram contest also will be entered in Sunday's competition.

Winner of Sunday's contest will vie with either Lakewood or Clearland for the state championship at Columbus on the following Sunday, and the champion team will exemplify the work before a class of candidates from all of Ohio's 86 lodges on Sunday afternoon, March 20, in Columbus.

Two of the six surviving members of a class initiated into the local lodge 40 years ago were present at last night's regular meeting. The two, Harry Seiber and Ed Higgins, were called upon for short talks. President Warren G. Harding was a member of the class which at the time comprised 32 candidates.

Installation of officers, chosen last week, will be held on Thursday night, March 27. It was announced at the meeting.

HELP THE SICKLY, FRAIL, PUNY CHILD

Your doctor prescribes Cod Liver Oil for your frail, backward, listless boy or girl because it contains Vitamins A and D.

Without these health building vitamins, the body is like a car without wheels. The child's body is like a car without wheels. The child's body is like a car without wheels.

And now, Mother, when you are absolutely sure of getting these magical vitamins in the new and improved McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets, you know that you won't torture them with obnoxious liquid Cod Liver Oil any more.

For the able chemists in McCoy's Laboratory are extracting these precious vitamins from pure, Norwegian, Vitamin-tested Cod Liver Oil and putting them in sugar-coated tablets that children love to take.

Two of these tablets are equal to one teaspoonful of pure Cod Liver Oil. We would not be allowed to make this statement if it was not true. McCoy's Tablets can be taken winter and summer and for every ailment, sickness, rundown or underweight condition for which Cod Liver Oil is prescribed. McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets are equally as good.

And that means for grown-ups as well as children. No drugs—Vitamin only. 60 tablets. 60c at any drug store.—Adv.

Needless Pain!

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain.

Lots of suffering is, indeed, quite needless. Headaches, for example. They come without warning, but one can always be prepared. Bayer Aspirin tablets bring immediate relief. Keep a bottle at the office. Carry the small tin in your pocket. Then you won't have to hunt a drugstore, or wait till you get home.

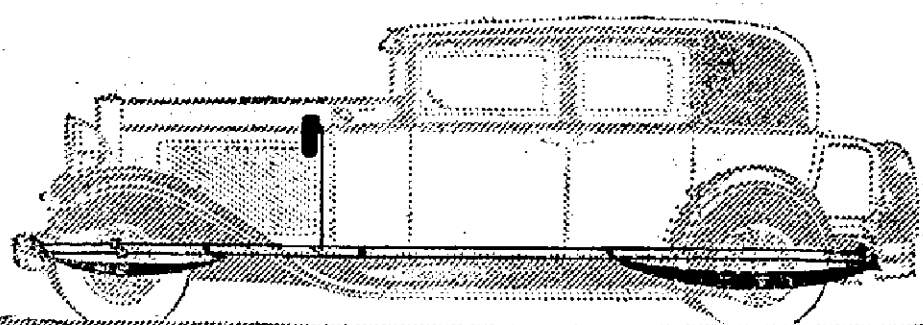

And don't think Bayer Aspirin is only good for headaches, sore throats, and colds! Read the proven directions for relieving neuralgia, neuritis, rheumatic, and other aches and pains. Remembering, of course, that the quick comfort from these tablets is not a cure; for any continued pain, see a doctor.

"Bayer Aspirin is genuine." Protect yourself by looking for that name. Always the same. Always safe. Never hurts the heart.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoclonalacetate of Salicylic Acid

JUSTICE MANDAMUS CASE IS REVIEWED

Suit Brought by Bailiff Against Auditor Heard by Appeals Court.

Judge Hamilton, of the appeals court, who heard the case, directed the auditor to pay Justice $250 a month until the commissioners' appropriation was exhausted. The fund was consumed on the first of last October and the case was then referred to Justice.

Briggs Second Suit
Last November Justice again brought mandamus action to force the auditor to continue the monthly salary payments. Judge Carter, who heard the case, ruled that the auditor was personally liable for the expenditure of any money not appropriated by the board of commissioners. His decision favored Thomas. It was this decision that the second district court of appeals reviewed today.

Justices were not present at the hearing. He is in Magnolia Springs recuperating from a recent illness.

WANDERINGS OF DOG BRING COURT ACTION

Changes Abode Frequently and Now Local Judge Will Decide Ownership.

The sickness of a white German Spitz dog had landed at least two persons in court action this morning.

Last fall the dog made the home of Mrs. Levi Buckingham, 206 Campbell av. its headquarters. Although she claims she did not tie or pen the dog, it remained there for several months. Suddenly it disappeared.

A few months later it returned. Mrs. Bessie Ames, a neighbor, came after the dog, saying it belonged to her. She took the dog, according to Mrs. Buckingham. Again it returned to the Buckingham home.

Through some unexplained reason, the dog suddenly found itself on the farm of Clifford E. Glassmeyer, south of town. Glassmeyer is a son-in-law of Mrs. Buckingham.

This morning Mrs. Ames filed a charge of harboring stolen property against Glassmeyer, according to municipal court officials. A search warrant was issued, and deputies from the office of Sheriff John J. Francis went to the Glassmeyer home and brought the dog to municipal court.

Glassmeyer will appear in municipal court tomorrow to answer his charge.

Civil War Veteran Still Being Held in Jail Here

Melvin Curtis Hozer, aged Civil war veteran, who says he left the Old Soldiers' home at Dayton last Tuesday, was still at city police station this morning.

Officials have not yet decided what will be done with the aged man, who claims to be a native of this city.

He has a small amount of money, and says he wants to find a room somewhere and live on his pension from the government.

DAVID SEAS RECALLS FIRST GRANGE HERE

Member of First Farm Organization in Marion County
56 Years Ago

often made it a practice to canvass the county and collect "loyalties" from farmers who used the patented device.

Through a delegate to the state grange convention and through messages to district congressmen, the "outrage" was finally eliminated.

Cooperative purchasing of provisions, implements, in fact almost anything of common use for the farm, was a selling point of the early grange. At the same time it proved to be one of the factors which broke down the monopoly of the grange, and reduced it to a commercial proposition.

Mr. Seas recalls certain members joining the grange, buying in a supply of food and articles and taking advantage of the reduced prices, and then refusing to pay dues or continue their membership.

Another factor which contributed greatly to the breaking down of the old grange organization was the "Farmers' Alliance," which swept the county like wildfire for a few years, only to fade away almost as rapidly. Nevertheless, it proved to be a parasite of the grange organization, for practically all grangers transferred their membership to the alliance.

At State Meetings
Mr. Seas attended two meetings of the state grange, one in Cincinnati, and one in Sandusky. He was also purchasing agent for the Pleasant township unit, handling all kinds of groceries in large quantities.

He is also a Civil war veteran. Incensed by the killing of his brother in the battle of Gettysburg, he joined the army and served 121 days. For some time he was located at a point southwest of Washington.

For the last years of the old grange was organized at Waldo, about 1908, with Homer T. Myers, recently made one of Ohio's Master Farmers, as the first master.

Although that grange no longer exists, 10 others have sprung up to take its place. At present the following granges are active in this county: Progressive, Clayton, Wheelstone, Bethlehem, Mt. Olive, Bowling Green, Tymberstone, Salt Rock, Mountgomery and Grand Prairie.

A county society, known as the Pomona grange and embracing about 400 members, has been in existence here for several years. L. B. Miller, of Waldo, is now Pomona master. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams, Grand Prairie township, are county deputy and juvenile.

Of the Pomona grange members, 125 are members of the Ohio state grange, and 50 are members of the national grange.

In addition to these societies, Marion county has three juvenile grange units, these being organized societies of boys and girls under 21 years of age.

Grange activities in this county will be further stimulated in 1936 in view of the fact that the annual state convention of that organization is to be brought here in December.

GANDHI ADVANCES

Mahatma Gandhi and Followers Continue March of Independence
By Associated Press
NAGAVON, India, March 14.—Mahatma Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader, left here at dawn today with his 70 devotees for their third day's march to the salt fields at Jalapur in inauguration of the movement for Indian independence. They arrived shortly at Varna and intended to proceed to Matar where they will halt for the night.

To inaugurate the march, the villagers at Nagavon Gandhi congratulated the eight head men who, equipped as protesters, carried Yellabhai Patel's imprimatur. He exhorted them to manufacture and to wear homespun cloth and to volunteer as civil resistance workers.

His exhortation for severance of government connections also brought about resignation of police head men at Nagavon and Matar. The villagers vowed to resist pressure not to fill the vacancies.

"Axe Slaying" of Hog Still Mystery to Police

The "murder" last Tuesday night of a 300-pound hog will go down as an unsolved mystery, unless a owner for the hog can be found, police officials said this morning.

No one has claimed the huge hog, which was slain with an axe, loaded into the back seat of an automobile and brought to Marion last Tuesday night. The car is being held.

Ohio Company Suffers $125,000 Loss by Fire

By Associated Press
CANTON, March 14.—Fire of undetermined origin leveled three buildings of the National Electric Co. plant at Wagonburg late Thursday afternoon. The loss, set by officials at the company at $125,000, is fully covered by insurance.

Starting in the drying building, shortly before 4 o'clock, the blaze spread quickly and destroyed the dryers, elevators and office building. It included with extensive damage, officials said.

Two hundred men employed in the structures destroyed by the fire will be retained to assist in rebuilding them.

SHOVEL IS REMOVING OLD RAILROAD GRADE

Last Traces of Early Marion Line in West End Disappearing.

10 years after the embankment was raised, and connected Ocean N. Y. with Dayton.

According to George H. Christian, former Marion county surveyor, what is now the Erie railroad took over the line about the year 1885. Later changes in the location of the tracks, looking towards the future establishment of a Union depot, caused the old right-of-way to be abandoned, excepting a part which lay south and west of the Marion steam shovel co. plant, and which is now used by that company as a switch.

The bank was cut away as the improvements were made along West Center st. until the single section now being cut away remained.

When the embankment was raised nearly 30 years ago, earth for it was furnished by a large excavation on the south side of West Center st., a short distance west of its intersection with Leader st.

This excavation formed what was popularly known as the Ocean pond. Its banks formed a playground for the youths of the West End, and the pond was a popular skating place in winter months. This has now been filled, and is valuable business property.

It goes without the saying that those behind the movements in two western states to boost the gas tax beyond their present five-cent rates are the tax-eaters and the material people, not the drivers of motor cars.

A Chicago policeman, directing school children across an avenue, was hit by an automobile and instantly killed, his body being hurled eighty feet by the impact. We take it that speed regulations in the Windy City are somewhat liberal.

The new 10,000-ton treaty cruiser, Pensacola, with six of her eight boilers operated, made twenty-eight knots in a heavy sea whipped up by a gale and rode easily. There can be little doubt of her ability to surpass the 32½ knots for which she was designed when given her speed trials under normal conditions.

The federal grand jury out to Wichita, Kansas, reported this week without returning a single indictment under the Jones act, although federal officials had announced that approximately 100 cases under it would be presented to the jury. It's the same story all over the country, grand juries simply refuse to make potential felonies out of men they believe to be guilty of nothing more than offenses at the worst.

Germany Approves the Young Plan.
Germany's commitment to the Young plan was made absolute, Thursday, when President Paul von Hindenburg signed the transcript of the Reichstag's action in approving it when it came up for its third reading the same day.

The Reichstag's action was forecasted, several days ago, when Dr. Heinrich Schacht, condemned his resignation as head of the Reichsbank. His resignation could not well have been taken as other than evidence that the long-time dictator of Germany's financial policies saw and correctly interpreted the handwriting on the wall, that he realized that his fight against the plan was doomed to be a losing one; that Germany's approval of the plan was inevitable.

It is more than possible that the action of Dr. Schacht in tendering his resignation was looked upon by many in Germany as something in the nature of a blessing, but time may show that it was a blessing to the republic. Dr. Schacht was an outspoken opponent of the plan. Dr. Hans Luther, his successor as head of the Reichsbank, is outspokenly friendly to it.

President von Hindenburg, in signing the Reichstag's approval of the plan, despite the receipt of thousands of messages urging him to withhold his signature, feelingly stated that he did so for the welfare of the German people. If that great German patriot looks on the plan as his utterance would indicate, the German people may well accept it as designed for their best interests, and thus accepting it, they should appreciate the fact that it is better to have at the head of the Reichsbank a friend of the plan rather than an enemy.

It has been hinted in cables that Dr.
Schacht, as a result of having so long handled Germany's finances, felt he was essential to the success of the bank. If he did, or does, entertain such a view, it is very probable that time will disillusion him.

We naturally think of Dr. Luther as a statesman and diplomat. We recall him as the former chancellor, as the "Man of Locarno," for it was Luther, as chancellor, who put through the Locarno agreement.
But it must not be overlooked that he was the minister of finance in the second Stresemann cabinet and that he performed signal service in that capacity in stabilizing the German currency and in balancing the budget of the Reich; that he held the same portfolio in the Marx cabinet following the Stresemann; that he was prominent in the preparations for the London conference and figured in the conclusion of the Dawes loans for Germany. It must be remembered also that Dr. Luther, as chancellor, brought about a great taxation reform, completed the revaluation legislation and was responsible for a provisional customs tariff which made it possible for Germany to open negotiations for commercial agreements with some prospect of success for the country's economic life.

Again, of all men in Germany, Dr. Luther probably stands highest in the regard of the republic's sturdy, old president. The two are close friends, and will work as one for the success of the plan and the good of the Fatherland. As we said: what was it then as a misfortune may prove a signal blessing to Germany and the German people.

Ninth Planet Discovered.

Early the greatest astronomical discovery since that of Neptune in 1846 is the location and identification by the scientists of Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, of a ninth major planet, which is forty-five times as far distant from the sun as the earth.

Uranus was discovered by Sir William Herschel in 1781, but it was many years before irregularities in its motion began to perplex astronomers. Along in the early forties of the nineteenth century, two astronomers, U. J. J. LeVerrier, a Frenchman, and John C. Adams, an Englishman, working on the problem of these irregularities unknown to each other, almost simultaneously promulgated the theory that the explanation was the presence of another planet outside the orbit of Uranus. The former asked the Berlin observatory to hunt for it, but the scientists of an English observatory to whom Adams made a similar appeal were first to locate what we now know as Neptune on the night of August 4, 1846.

The discovery of this ninth planet, far outside the orbit of Neptune came about in much the same way. Neptune accounted for the irregularities in the motion of Uranus, but irregularities in the motion of Neptune soon began to puzzle the scientific world. Among others, Dr. Percival Lowell, began a study of these Neptunian irregularities, and over a quarter of a century ago had figured out its approximate location and course. He founded the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff in 1905 to locate photographically or visually the planet he knew must exist, but until January 21 of this year, it had escaped the endeavors of the Lowell scientists to identify it.

The first notice of the transneptunian body was made by C. W. Tombaugh, photographer of the observatory, who saw a tiny spot on one of his plates. This was on the date last stated. The discovery was communicated to other observatories, but news of it was withheld till verification was absolute.

The new planet is said to be larger than the earth and possibly as large as Uranus, which has a diameter of 30,000 miles to the 8,000-mile diameter of the earth. Neptune receives but 1-300 of the light of the sun, and the scientists figure that this newly-discovered planet has about the brilliancy of moonlight.

Here we have an illustration of the way of the scientists. They calculate that something is true; they figure that it must be true to bring about certain conditions which obtain. Satisfied that they are right, they proceed to work away to prove that they are right or that they are wrong. In the present case the wonder is, so comparatively close was the calculation of Dr. Lowell to the fact, that verification of his calculation did not come sooner.

Sir Henry Seagrave, who holds the land speed record of 231 miles an hour, was fined five pounds for driving at forty-five miles an hour. Forty-five miles an hour probably seemed tortoise-like to him.

A member of the British parliament recently charged that the failure of the United States to pay British bondholders $375,000, 000 owed to them by the "eight southern states" placed this country in the same category as Russia, that of "a financial leper." It takes a lot of nerve for Britishers to expect the United States government to reimburse them for the millions they loaned the southern states to finance them in their attempt to overthrow it.

The publication, right on the heels of the British Labor government's first defeat in parliament, of the fact that British taxes are to be boosted from $200,000,000 to $250,- 000,000 under the new budget to be presented to the house of commons next month, will hardly have the effect of strengthening the Labor government's position and may cause its overthrow. As it is, British taxes are confiscatory.

"There is no optimism like the one who sets out to form a third party in an off year," says the Detroit Free Press. "And George Creel is it." Let's see! Wasn't George the head of the hate propaganda bureau during the World War which put in its time largely telling us things which weren't so, the German atrocity stories among them?

It's little wonder that the chief of police of Memphis, Tennessee, is waging war on that city's thieves. He might have stood for thieves in churches and hospitals reported down there, but when articles began to disappear from the sergeant's desk in the Memphis police headquarters patience ceased to be a virtue.

The trustees of Ohio State university have approved the preliminary plans for three new buildings to be erected on the college campus, the coming spring and summer, at a cost of $1,850,000, from which we take it that the university's building program is to be about normal this year.

Senators Foss, Johnson and Swanson, one of the divisions of the upper house of congress, have voted opposition to the French proposal for consultation looking to her security. Just how far is any agreement carrying such a proposition liable to get in the senate? Just about as far as Mr. Tardieu could throw an ox by its tail.

Newspaper readers may have noted that history is being repeated. The so-called writers are getting busy over in New Castle, Pennsylvania, where the "blind gunwoman" is on trial for the murder of a highway policeman.

Should Sweden take the action requested by the municipal council of Malmo, the second largest town in southern Sweden, which would have all passports between Scan-danavian countries abolished, it would be the first European country to take such a step.

Abolishing passports is taking a decided long step, especially so when a country like Great Britain refuses to do away with the visa nuisance because of her unwillingness to give up the monetary return she gets from it.

A Cause of Eyestrain.

Editorial Opinion.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
You should not fail to appreciate the great importance of having proper lighting facilities where there is close and constant work required of the eyes. A very common cause of uncomfortable eye symptoms is poor lighting.

Eyestrain is the cause of many ills. Some of these are easily corrected, but other symptoms, perhaps far removed from the eyes, are often more difficult to overcome.

The eye is a wonderfully delicate machine. With good care, and attention it will last a lifetime.
But a very slight thing will put it out of compensation. When you begin having headaches, with itching and burning in the eyes, redness of the eyeballs, and perhaps swelling of the lids, look out for the sore of lighting arrangements by which you are working. If they are wrong this may account for your discomfort.

In cold winter days, when the days are very dark, thousands of people work all the time by artificial light. Workers in offices, in factories, children working in the schools, women in the house sewing or using their eyes for other close work—all such persons need the very best lighting facilities that can be devised. If they do not have them sooner or later there is certain to be eyestrain, more or less serious perhaps.

They are straining the delicate muscles of the eyes in poor light to make the eyes focus properly.
The act of vision is dependent on muscular action.

Every time you focus the eyes these sensitive muscles are brought into play. They are tiny things and a great strain upon them is sure to cause trouble.

The eyes are constantly in motion. The eye muscles get tired, like any other part of the body.
Nature rebels and they cry out at misuse.

You should have your eyes tested often to see if you have the sort of eyes which call for eyeglasses. If you are accustomed to wearing glasses, perhaps they should be changed. Once in two years is not too often to have the eyes examined. In the long run it will pay you to observe this rule.

Some of the best eyes, so far as vision is concerned may be strained by bad light. Of course, some defect in them may be causing trouble. What is really the trouble can be discovered by examination. If there is a defect you should have it corrected. You can not be efficient if you have eyestrain, with headaches, indigestion and all the other bad feelings that go with it.

School children often complain of the eyes.
They may be tired, having naps and that miserable run-down feeling, never feeling equal to the tasks put upon them. This is all wrong.

The first thing to do is to find out what kind of light the schoolroom is equipped with and to see that the right kind is supplied, if possible. Nothing is too good for the delicate eye.

Being out in the open air is one of the best cures for sick eyes. Get into the sunshine. Give your eyes a rest when possible, even a few minutes at a time. If you use your eyes all day long in some close work do not read all the evening.

For every bit of care you give your eyes and your general health, from the time you are old enough to think, just so much stronger will your eyes be in after years. You can not take chances with them. Do not be foolish about wearing glasses. If you need to wear them if you have eyestrain, 1930, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Dinner Stories.

"Ah shenah does pity you," said a negro pugilist to his opponent as they squared off.
"Ah was bolus with boxing gloves on."
"Marbo you was," retorted the other, "and ah reckon you's going to die de same way."

Hostess—"Might I see your invitation card?"
Inmate-late Gate-Crasher—"I'm sorry, I couldn't bring it. It made my coat bulge."

Visitor—"And how old are you, Bobbie?" Bobbie—"I'm just at the awkward age." Visitor—"Really? And what do you call the awkward age?" Bobbie, bitterly—"I'm too old to cry an too young to swear."

Rastus—"Ef yo' says anything ter me ah'll make yo' eat yo' words, man." Exodus—"Chicken dumplings, hot biscuits and watermelon!"

Officer—"Again, eh? Don't you realize when you've reached your capacity? After you've had so much whiskey you should order some soft drink, like sarsaparilla."

Doc—"I tried that, Hentumant, but when I'd drunk that much I couldn't—his—stay shashpratt."

"PEOPLE OF GREATER POWER."

"They are people with a very much greater active ability than the people of our stock, with a greater mass of brain and greater power of artistic production." In the current issue of the South Atlantic Quarterly these words of conviction—taken from a chapel address—reveal the impact of Mexico upon the scholarly mind of the president, Dr. William Allen Nelson. The speech is lively with his quick response to that mysterious creative vitality which in the nations Mexico has acquired ages of slavery, duplication and disheartenment and which perennially rebores.

President Nelson was surprised. He saw, as all newcomers must, the exterior of poverty, discomfort, sadness. The wonders of original craftsmanship, expressing a joy in this world which no fate has quenched, stood out from the dark background and could hardly be explained. The colors were gay, the voice, the designs and shapes fanciful, yet the art and the feeling had often been a ceaseless hardship—their dwelling a windowless mud hut, their food maize. There he saw the whole soul into waves of holiday banter, and that soul showed, as in all fine peasant handicraft.
It is what impressed President Nelson.

"The influence of Spanish civilization," he comments, "is giving way to forces coming up from within. These forces are archaic and tremendous.
These watching their manifestations through the years can only say that it 'comes natural' to the Mexican Indian to make things finely with his hands. He has the vast patience, the precision, the nice eye and delicate finger, and beneath all this the ancient impulse to take what lies to his hand—grass, clay, earth and vegetable colors, feathers, wool, cotton, metals—and to fashion thereof whatever he needs, in his own way. And while he does this he tells old stories through that medium, and remembers much, and knows that he has brought well, alone and that much handicraft in any age may justly be a people's pride. He considered himself as he makes his living. The sense of this is to the most 'triste' Indian village, as much as in the present brilliant Mexican exhibition at the art center. It gives the Indian a peculiar dignity as he sits in his comfortable dwelling, painting, modeling, weaving. His manifold artistic powers are a gift of God, his manifold to those strangers as widely read and traveled as President Nelson.—New York Herald Tribune.

FAVORED OR DOWNTHROD?
Louis J. Taber, head of the national grange, does not lack wit and policy in meeting situations that would perplex one less favored in these graces.

Arguing before the farm relief board, President Taber painted a moving picture of the deplorable plight of the farmer. He was represented as being headed for the place of the "comes natural" to the Mexican Indian to make things finely with his hands. He has the vast patience, the precision,
the nice eye and delicate finger, and beneath all
this the ancient impulse to take what lies to his

Asked by one of the congressional prob-lemers these claims Mr. Taber replied that both statements were true, for although farm conditions are bad, he said, they would be still worse without prohibition. He said grape growers now are getting from $70 to $120 a ton for their grapes today, and before prohibition got only from $10 to $20 a ton.

It is easy to understand where Mr. Taber acquired this attitude to adapt his opinions to the mood of controversy. He was a graduate of the farm institutes of Ohio, which schooled him in the capacity of debate with equal conviction upon either side of any problem under the sun. By constant the task of making the average farmer appear before some government commission in the character that best fits the present mood or purpose of the grange master is a very simple thing.
The farmer himself might tell a different story.

Robert Fulton.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.
The career of Robert Fulton, whose name is associated in the popular mind with the invention of the steamboat, furnishes an interesting subject for study. The chief lesson to be derived from it is that success sometimes arises, less from the poverty and originality of the invention, than from the methods employed in making it a practical success. Fulton was not only a talented inventor, but he was also a highly competent engineer and a man of strong common sense. All these qualities, taken in conjunction, spelled the success of the steamboat.

Robert Fulton, who came of Scotch-Irish ancestry, was born November 14, 1765, at Little Britain, Lancaster county Pennsylvania.
Even as a child Robert showed marked mechanical skill. Lancaster was famous for its skilled makers of firearms, and in the shop of one of these craftsmen, the young Robert familiarized himself with the handling and use of tools. He was not content merely to dream of conquering the waters with a force stronger than that of poles or oars. At the age of thirteen, he rigged up a heavy sailing boat with side paddle-wheels, which were turned by a crank and greatly lightened the labor of propelling it through the water. The idea of inventing a new kind of boat, worked by paddle-wheels, seems to have come from this moment, to have left him.

There is a close and intimate connection between science and art which has been but imperfectly studied as yet. This history of invention exhibits many an artist who afterwards turned inventor. Perhaps the most conspicuous illustration in all history is Leonardo da Vinci. Fulton belongs to the tribe of artist-scientists. As a boy of seventeen, he entered upon the career of portrait painter. After making a success as an artist he went to Europe to visit a friend of his family, the famous artist, Benjamin West, originally of Pennsylvania. For several years he remained as West's guest and protegee in England, and painted portraits and pictures which were exhibited at the Royal academy or by the Royal Society of British Artists.

Through association with scientists in England his attention was turned from art to the natural talent, which he had displayed in childhood, for mechanics. He made a number of original inventions and improvements on the inventions of others.

For a period of nine years he devoted his attention to torpedoes and submarine boats, during which time he carried on negotiations with the French and British governments. All these efforts were barren of results.

After becoming associated with Robert H.
Livingston, American minister to France, Fulton contracted with Livingston to construct a steamboat to ply between New York and Albany. The final result of his labors was the famous Clermont. There was not a single new invention embodied in its construction or machinery. But it succeeded where others had failed. Fulton, the competent engineer and practical mechanic, triumphed.—Copyright, 1930, International

TWO DEAD IN PRISON CLASH

New Jersey Lifer Slain After He Kills Guard and Wounds 2 Others.

By The Associated Press
NEW JERSEY, N. J., March 14.—Charles Evans, 35, a New Jersey lifer, shot his way out of the state prison here last night and in his death after he killed one guard and wounded two others.

Frank Butler, a guard, died from wounds suffered in the gun battle. The convict, Charles Evans, was slugged with a club and Ernest L. Gordon, a guard, suffered a bullet wound in the chest.

Prison authorities said Evans opened fire about 7:30 p. m. by firing a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver. As the guard was struck, he fell to the floor and Evans rushed to his aid.

Evans backed into an empty cell and closed the door. The guard, who was wounded twice, in the head and chest, was unable to get out.

Stock Broker Leaps to Death from 11th Floor

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, March 14.—Frank D. Ketchum, 55, a stock broker, fell or leaped to his death early today from the eleventh floor of the Alhambra hotel, a North Michigan Ave. hotel.

Ketchum, a widower, was associated with the firm of Babcock, Bushong & Co., and was said to be wealthy. A son, Tuckill Ketchum, a broker of Winnetka, North Shore suburb, survives.

W. W. Dwyer, manager of the Alhambra hotel, who knew Ketchum intimately during his five-year residence there, said as far as he knew there was no motive for suicide.

Marion Shovel in Far Land

Product Made Here Does Duty in Building Russian Railroad

A MARION steam shovel has found its way to distant Turkistan, where it is being used in excavating a roadbed for a railroad being thrown across a thousand miles of desert by the Russian Soviet government.

This is revealed in photographs published in the New York Times magazine section for Saturday, March 14, which illustrate an article entitled "The Anarchist Who Builds An Empire." One of the photos shows a steam shovel with the name "Marion" standing out conspicuously on the body.

The article reveals that Bill Shatoff, once an American anarchist, now is supervising this mammoth railway which will open up the interior of Turkistan and enable Russia to exploit its vast deposits of ore. In turn, the railroad will bring grain from distant Siberia in exchange for the minerals.

After five country editors has printed the facts, he is perfectly willing to give space to details by those interested.

Acid Stomach Is Dangerous

Sufferers From Indigestion CUT THIS OUT

Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused and cured in ten by "too much acid" in the stomach.

The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastric or dangerous stomach ulcers. Never does an acid stomach with artificial digestants that give merely temporary relief. You must get at the cause.

The best plan is to neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little "Bismarck" Magnesia. Then not only will the pain and sourness quickly vanish but your food will digest properly as nature intended.

Be sure to use genuine Bismarck Magnesia. There is nothing better to settle an upset acid stomach. You feel fine in five minutes. Reliable druggists everywhere say it must give complete satisfaction or its small cost will be returned. Bismarck Magnesia comes in both powder and convenient tablet form. Handy to carry about, easy to use, not a laxative, and, for making a disordered stomach do its duty, it works like a charm.—Adv.
